Evening: The guide will lead the guests on a bike ride to a local home in Tân Hoá for dinner. During this time, the host will introduce the customs, practices, and culture of the local Nguồn people. Guests will also learn about how the people of Tân Hoá live with floods and adapt to the weather for tourism. A highlight of the evening will be the opportunity to savor delicious local dishes prepared by the host, which is considered a wonderful experience by most tourists visiting Vietnam. After dinner, guests will bike back to their accommodation and spend the night.
